Starting as a novice with a passion for graphic design, I discovered an interest in coding, which ignited my fascination with programming and fueled my commitment to continuous self-improvement. My experience has grown through working on real projects and self-directed learning. Personally, I'm interested in backend, frontend, and graphic design, aiming to leverage these skills to advance in the field of web design.

EXPERIENCES IN UNIVERSITY

I have been assigned tasks to develop a website, create Line Official Account and chatbot, as well as edit video clips, as part of a research project with a professor. This is because we aim to utilize technology to assist in online marketing, aiming to increase sales and reduce unnecessary workload for entrepreneurs, which is the main goal of this project.
